

Susan Vasi

Although I have explored many mediums my true love is transparent watercolor; starting with beautiful white paper and watching the colors dance and blend, creating the luminosity that is transparent watercolor.

“Ancora Imparo”, to borrow Michelangelo’s quote when he was 87 (or possibly DaVinci), I am still learning. Searching for my voice I paint various genres: Florals, landscape, portraits, animals, anything that strikes my fancy.

I owe my continuing love of art to the art societies, galleries and especially the wonderful artists I have met on my journey.
