

Elaine LaVigne

Art has been the center of my life. I have taught art 33 years in the public schools at all grade levels. I worked in a variety of media with my students and integrated art history with many projects.

I have been working with portrait artist, George Palmer for many years and enjoy doing portraits of people and animals in pastel. Experimenting in acrylic media has been a recent interest and a new direction in my art. Each day is an opportunity to create something new.
